Better than the first. This game is showing a lot of promise.. Bloo Kid 2 is a rock solid retro 2d platformer. The make or break of any platformer is the controls and this game passes with flying colors.

In addition to completing the level there are 6 additional challenges for each level;

- kill all the enemies
- collect all the stars
- collect all the hidden blue stars
- collect the balloon at the end of the level
- finish in under the special time
- finish the level with 3 hearts. Like the concept. Good old civ-builder with a potential. I like those calm VR experiences where you just walk around and enjoy a nice scenery and I would also be willing to pay something for it if it is well made. But since we have Destinations, the Lab and a lot of other free scenery apps, like the master of them all Google Earth, a tech demo like Vistacapes VR falls short.

I bought it on sale for 50 cents and do not regret it since I just like having games in my collection anyways, but for non-collectors I can say, save your money and enjoy the mentionned programs which deliver so much more content and perfection.

Unfortunately not recommended.

I've had this game a long time and I finally got around to playing it. A very enjoyable experience. Fun story, music a little repetitive but nice, the art weak in a few spots but overall very good. A really great story and game. It was nice and long, with a few twists along the way. Definitely a recommended for those of us who enjoy this sort of thing. :D. 10/10

It kept on crashing and not saving any of my work. After the 4th crash I got my money back.. I actually really liked this story. it wasn't the perfect cap off to the Heroes series, but it was still pretty good all things considered. If this were the very last story that was being written in this universe, i would've liked it far less because it would feel to Mass Effect 3ish but as the ending showed, that might not be the case so hopes up and all that.

Does this game have it's flaws? yes, absolutely. But should you still buy it in spite of that? yes, definetly.. The game is alright, but not that fun. It's very repetitive with very few variations of enemies or victory conditions. The interface is bad, you have to micro-manage every aspect of your ships, which is especially annoying when the "balanced" setting doesn't even allow shield regen.

The AI is dumb as bricks and is balanced by outnumbering you quite a lot, on top of the micro-management if you ever want to target something it's super cumbersome.

The graphics are meh as are the sound, the story is uninteresting and the dialogue tropey.

Worse of all are the missile and mine spams from the ennemies, whereas you have to carefully manage your ammo from mission to mission until there is an unpredictable refill.

If you lose a ship you may be able to get a new one, but if you buy the smaller ones they get insta gibbed by the unescapable mines (unless you sacrifice the few anti-missile ammo).

The game is easy, but I just stopped at the missile spam mission, with respawning healers... Not fun and not interesting. Overall it was worth the 5$ I paid for it, but not more. Weapon handling is good, aiming works as on a real gun. The game is fun and casual. Your room should be at least 3x3m to have space for cover and movement. Do not expect any kind of story in this one, its really just about shooting around with some pistols.. It's a fun city builder game. Before I got it, I was afraid it was time based (seeing the bar at the top), that you only had so much time to complete thing. Fortunately it's not, so you go at your own pace.

The tutorial is good, it teaches you the basics and the rest you get to figure out, partial on your own, partially thru quests.

You play a aspiring god, your goal is to win the approval of the other gods. basically it's mostly construction and not whole lot of waiting. I tend to get bored with games when there's just too much waiting, fortunately this one doesn't suffer from that.

As the story goes, everytime you gain more favor with Venus, Mars gets more upset and causes fires, which you have to put out. And then Hera also causes destruction. You get to a point with this that Mars wants 2k and Hera wants 5k every 5 minutes which is impossible. However after you get past this point, you start earning more money then you can possible spend where as most of the game you're struggling to make money.

On the downside, you can't rotate your buildings, so you often spend time rearraging your building for the best possible fit. Nor did I see the option to grow new trees, eventually you run out of trees to chop and have to use mana get wood. Regardless of how many lumberjack houses you build, you'll only get +5 wood. Other thing I didn't like is you can't stop production on any buildings so you are force to sell excess stocks.

Found a bug where you're tasked with repairing a damaged build, however you can't find it or there's no building to repair. There was no floating icon indicating the building needs to be repaired. Spent an hour looking for it until I gave up and it really didn't seem to impact me any.

When you're in the middle of casting a spell, a popup tends to ovelay and you can't cancel the spell so you end up wasting mana on a act you don't want to do: once you click you to acknowledge you also cast at the same time.

Your economy tends to fluctuate alot for unknown reasons. All of a sudden food production dips into the negatives no matter how many of that building you build, then later on it just magically goes into to the positive without building any buildings.

I don't really don't see any replay value in the game once you go thru it. Took me about 5 hours to complete. But i stil lenjoyed it. I have to say though I don't find many games that deserve a positive review.. Content not worth the $70 price tag:

You get premium time that last 30 days (Ok)

Then you get 1 costume set, just one, not one for each character. Description feels a bit misleading.

Also to mention one of the costume pieces is also on a 30 day timer.

I would rate the value of this pack at $30 tops.

Be warned as this pack is considered NON-REFUNDABLE by steam due to containing consumeables.. Maybe not that good as Combat Mission but good enough to enjoy the details of realistic combat mechanisms. Its not a casual mainstream RTS though, - if you're not patient and try to overrun everyone with everything you got, then you'll rather stick with Command and Conquer. However, they are some buggy issues, which should have been fixed.. A worthy remake of the best game ever made.
